Hi Guys – not the best of news and not directly related to our CZARA action, but if you recall, there had been proposed legislation at the end of 2014 on herbicide spray buffers for homes and schools. Unfortunately, it died in legislation. We were trying to support the OHA staffer working on this, but he confirmed the legislation is dead for now.

Clearly written as an expose-type article. None-the-less concerning however. I wonder what this portends for future riparian rule making.
